

Construction Company Expands Staff

Arthur Funk & Sons, Inc., Construction Services has added two to the staff. Arthur Funk & Sons President Bob Funk, PE, LEED AP, said that the firm recently added Travis Freed as Senior Estimator and Cobie Arnold as Project Engineer.

Freed, a Drexel University graduate with a B.S. in Civil Engineering, began his career as an assistant project manager at Granary Associates in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania working on construction projects including the building of the Montefiore Medical Center in Bronx, New York, the Robert Wood Johnson Cancer Center in New Brunswick, New Jersey and the Woman's Facility at the Delaware County PA Correctional Facility in Delaware County, Pennsylvania. Following these projects, he became a project manager for A.C. Shultes Inc. where he both budgeted and oversaw projects for Township and Municipality water supply wells, including the installation of turbine pumps. Most recently he worked for L.C. Costa Contractors in Warminster, Pennsylvania as their estimator/project manager, managing construction projects with a company focus in concrete material projects. As Senior Estimator with Arthur Funk & Sons Inc., Freed will be estimating both negotiated and hard dollar projects. His background in project management will be implemented, as well. A recent graduate of The Pennsylvania State University with a B. S. in Civil Engineering and a Minor in Engineering Leadership, Arnold has completed internships with Pennsy Supply in Annville, PA and HIGH Construction in Lancaster, PA. In these positions, he has gained experience in highway construction and subgrade design as well as project management and construction procedures. As engineer for Arthur Funk & Sons Inc., his duties include field support, submittal and RFI preparation, submittal review, and analysis, and overall job coordination. Arnold will work closely with the owner, AE Team, and project managers to ensure that the job remains on schedule and is completed in an accurate and timely manner.
